"I have had time to experience the difference it makes for women of color to control a significant means of communication, to have a vehicle for shaping ideology which serves as a foundation for making practical social and political change."

AFRICAN-AMERICAN ANCESTRAL LESBIAN

Aché Aché Aché

Aché is a project for lesbians of African descent founded by two black lesbians in 1989. Aché's goals are:

- ◆ To document black lesbian herstory & culture throughout the diaspora.
- ◆ To help further develop the artistic, political, & economic resources in our communities.
- ◆ To provide forums where issues impacting our communities are openly addressed and analyzed.
- ◆ To create local, national & international networks for lesbians and gays of color.
- ◆ To celebrate ourselves, our communities & our achievements.

Aché's goals are achieved through 2 means:

◆ A bi-monthly publication, Aché: A Journal For Lesbians of African Descent which explores and celebrates the many facets of our lives while providing a place where artists and writers can develop & display their skills.

◆ Cultural, political & social events which showcase the varied talents in our communities while providing places to come together and share, heal, & celebrate.

Through our empowerment we seek to strengthen the bonds between our sisters & brothers around the world.
