The Buzz About Books To Watch Out For

Authors Applaud

Katherine V. Forrest - Comprehensive, gossipy, timely, candid, informative, addictive, indispensable - that's Books To Watch Out For, and that's only the half of it! Carol Seajay and Richard Labonte know our books, our writers, our literary history. BTWOF has everything you need to know about what's new, what's good, and what's happening with lesbian and gay books. I recommend it without reservation.

Felice Picano - Reading Books to Watch Out For is like having one of the savviest, most balanced, and best read critics right across the breakfast table from you. Like Richard, Carol Seajay is exciting, knowledgeable, and opinionated. What could be better! I love these publications!

Alison Bechdel - Books To Watch Out For is such a wonderful resource & so much fun to read! And the faint allusion to DTWOF always gives me a little frisson when it arrives in my mailbox.*

Lucy Jane Bledsoe - Looks fabulous! I love the design. Congratulations.

Kate Clinton - So busy fighting anti-gay marriage amendments or planning for that four-year gay cruise that you can't keep up with your gay and lesbian reading material? Then go to the one Homo Page you need - Books to Watch Out For. You'll find the latest G/L books to read in that sit-down strike or on that get-away cruise. Check it out!

Elana Dykewomon - Books To Watch Out For is providing a terrific service to those of us who still read books - if you're a reader, don't miss [this] newsletter.*

Subscribers Say

I loved and miss Feminist Bookstore News! You are my hero. - Seattle WA

I appreciate being kept up to date on women's bookstores. It's helped me re-connect with Charis. I like your sense of humor and level-headed intelligence. Thanks for reminding me why I love to read widely & deeply! - Vero Beach FL

*Well, I find that I'm really missing that regular magazine in my inbox, so I just signed back up again ;-)
I've been poking around the old issues and realize there was so much more to your e-zine that I really missed reading on a regular basis. Just wanted you to know that you got a fan back ;-)

The Buzz About Books To Watch Out For

Thanks for everything you do now and have done in the past for progressive publishing. You are my hero. - email

You've done it again. I can't describe how eagerly I await each edition of BTWOF. I rush through it, then go back and read slowly, and I can always find something you suggest to counter that constant wail: I don't have anything to read. That refrain has marked all the relationships in my life, beginning with my mother, whose answering you're-going-ruin-your-eyes formed the background noise of my childhood. I found two books that I simply have to have in this latest issue. Thank you again. - email

Tremendous issue - I found several books I will buy. - email

Hon, I wouldn't dream of NOT renewing my BTWOF subscription....thanks for the subscription reminder. - email

Press Paeans

Joy Parks, GayLinkContent.com - Carol Seajay, publisher of the sadly missed Feminist Bookstore News, founder/editor of the Lesbian edition of Books to Watch Out For, and trusted friend of all women who read, has just made it even easier to find what's worthy out of the 200,000 books published annually in the U.S.

Bookselling This Week - More Books for Women highlights 25 to 30 titles selected and succinctly reviewed by the owners and staff of Women & Children First bookstore in Chicago.

ShelfAwareness.com - One of our favorite fellow bookselling journalists (and there aren't many of us) is expanding her newsletter coverage.

Michelle Tea, San Francisco Bay Guardian/Lit - [A]nother way to build book-centric queer community. Books to Watch Out For, an online, subscription-based newsletter series, delivers flashy, gossipy literary info into your e-mailbox each month.

Betty's List - Visit this new e-newsletter from Carol Seajay and associates for all the buzz about lesbian & gay books and publishing.

Robert DiGiacomo, Philadelphia Gay News - Seajay...certainly knows her topic well.

Publishers Weekly - There's nothing else like it.

Anita D. McClellan, Women's Review of Books - FBN's [Feminist Bookstore News] voice is back!

Bookstore Bravas

Luan Strauss, Laurel Book Store, Oakland, California - I love it! I can't wait to tell all my customers to subscribe and then come here each month to get the books! Thank you for creating such a comprehensive and fun newsletter!
